

Sapo de Fora

Manual do Sapo

Neste arquivo, mostramos passo a passo como montar um dos vários modelos de sapo em origami.

Esse sapo estrelou a capa do QI 188, no qual aparece impresso em preto e branco com a opção de se colar sobre a imagem P&B uma imagem colorida (fornecida junto com a edição).

Mas caso alguém ache que o sapo deveria aparecer, ele mesmo no bruto, na capa, em relevo, como o original da foto, então junto com o QI também foi fornecida uma folha no tamanho 8x16cm, mais dois olhinhos móveis, para quem quiser montar o bicho.

As instruções para montar o sapo estão a partir da próxima página, passo a passo. Mas tão passo a passo, que é quase uma “animação”. Para assistir ao “desenho animado”, é só manter pressionada a tecla ‘Page Down’ e as páginas serão mostradas rapidamente em sequência dando alguma ilusão de movimento.

Para desfazer o sapo, é só ir ao final do arquivo e então manter pressionada a tecla ‘Page Up’.

“Do celulose veio, ao celulose voltará!”

P.S.: a montagem começa com a folha com o verso virado para cima.

EDGARD GUIMARÃES

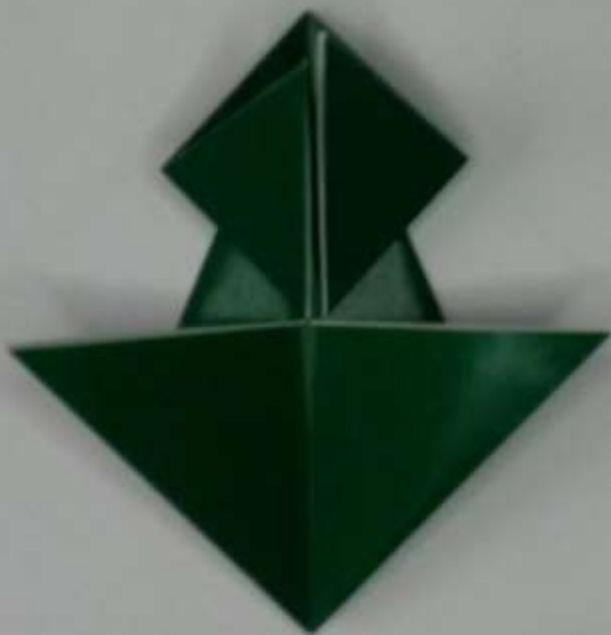

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million (19.5% of the population).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century in the White Paper on Ageing Better: A Strategy for the 21st Century (Department of Health, 1999).

The White Paper sets out a number of key objectives for the health care system, including:

• to improve the health and well-being of older people, and to reduce the inequalities in health and well-being between different groups of older people;

• to ensure that older people are able to live independently in their own homes for as long as possible;

• to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need to live well in old age.

The White Paper also sets out a number of key actions to be taken to achieve these objectives, including:

• to improve the health and well-being of older people, and to reduce the inequalities in health and well-being between different groups of older people;

• to ensure that older people are able to live independently in their own homes for as long as possible;

• to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need to live well in old age.

The White Paper also sets out a number of key actions to be taken to achieve these objectives, including:

• to improve the health and well-being of older people, and to reduce the inequalities in health and well-being between different groups of older people;

• to ensure that older people are able to live independently in their own homes for as long as possible;

• to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need to live well in old age.

The White Paper also sets out a number of key actions to be taken to achieve these objectives, including:

• to improve the health and well-being of older people, and to reduce the inequalities in health and well-being between different groups of older people;

• to ensure that older people are able to live independently in their own homes for as long as possible;

• to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need to live well in old age.

The White Paper also sets out a number of key actions to be taken to achieve these objectives, including:

• to improve the health and well-being of older people, and to reduce the inequalities in health and well-being between different groups of older people;

• to ensure that older people are able to live independently in their own homes for as long as possible;

• to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need to live well in old age.

